

The Eyes Have It

From angular details to half moons in heavy kohl, eyeliner is going graphic this season

Photography Montana Lowery

Make-up Amber Pitkin

Words Emily Thornhill

All The Right Angles

Instead of making your eyes pop with a tonne of glittery eyeshadow this winter, keep it graphic and minimal by framing your eyes with angular eyeliner. Use Kat Von D's Tattoo Liner pen to frame your peepers and pair with minimal make-up and a subtle, glossy lip.

Tattoo Liner Pen,
KAT VON D, £16

Ring, cos

Criss Cross

When it comes to graphic eye liner, the more abstract the design the better. Use a precise, thin liner pen such as Topshop's Liquid Liner to create sharp edges.

Liquid Liner
in Inhibition,
TOPSHOP, £8

Earrings, & OTHER STORIES

Half Moon

Create the illusion of wider eyes by drawing a half-moon crescent just above your eyelid crease. Those brave enough can try a bold, primary-coloured eyeliner, or choose a highly-pigmented black liner like Illamasqua's Illustrator pen.

Illustrator Pen,
ILLAMASQUA, £20